LI labs
Australia

We are hiring
Full Stack Developer

⦿ Colombo | Ref. No. 2019EM003

The Introduction
This role is well suited to an individual who is keen to use the very latest in web and mobile technologies and is able to create unique interactive solution that utilise cutting edge browser functionality as well as mainstream mobile platforms.

About LI Labs
LI Labs is an Australian-based digital platform provider with a mission to help businesses deliver better customer experience through the use of digital technology, elevating existing operations and data to a more useful purpose.

Our purpose is to support businesses become digitally ready and offer the right customer experience, while fulfilling the business goals. Our expertise is on digital platforms ranging from Web to Mobile to Mixed Reality and the technologies that enables the capabilities for these platforms.

The Position

We're looking for a permanent Full Stack Developer to be working with our team based in Colombo, Sri Lanka.
We will expect you to work with teams based in Melbourne as well as in Colombo. If you are the right candidate you will have following attributes and skills.

Attributes:

- Innovative thinking.
- Excellent attention to detail.
- A friendly and approachable attitude.
- Good organisational skills, with good written and communication skills.
- Work well in teams and independently.
- Excellent problem-solving capabilities.
- Consistently proactive.
- Trustworthy and amicable.

In this role you will:

- Develop, test and deliver solutions using the latest front-end technologies.
- Design and build dynamic, functional and well-structured back ends to support the front end-code.
- Write clean, extensible, well-documented code.
- Work with the development team to spread knowledge and develop resources.
- Work with our project managers in multiple locations to develop a delivery schedule for projects and then carry out those schedules;
- Day to day contact with clients, account managers, project managers and our design team.
- Liaise with clients to understand their goals and translate them into requirements.

We expect you to have:

- Very strong classic HTML and HTML5.
- Experience and knowledge on WCAG 2.0.
- Strong skills with responsive & mobile techniques.
- Front-end skills – HTML, CSS, CSS3, CSS3 animations, JavaScript, popular JavaScript libraries/frameworks e.g. jQuery.
- Back-end skills – PHP, MySQL or equivalent language such as C#, java, etc.
- Working knowledge of source control e.g. Bitbucket, Github.
- Responsive development (desktop, mobile, tablet).
- Experience creating responsive HTML newsletters in MailChimp, Campaign Monitor, etc.
- Knowledge of Adobe Creative Suite, ability to work with design files for web development needs.
- Ability to debug front-end site issues using inspector tools and.
- Knowledge of tools & frameworks such as Gulp, Grunt, Node, Composer, etc.
- Ability to work with APIs.
- Experience working with CMS systems e.g. Silverstripe, Hubspot, Magento, Wordpress, Joomla, Shopify, etc.
- Working knowledge of domain setup, DNS records and web hosting environments e.g. cPanel, WHM, AWS, Google suites e.g. Analytics, Adwords.
- Experience in app creation, ios or Android.
- Experience in similar role, ideally working in agency environment.

Interested?

Email your resume and a cover letter stating how you would fulfil LI Labs core values in the capacity of Full Stack Developer to

✉ careers@lilabs.com.au